- Supports mouse models: M7600, M7700, M7800 and ECO600 - 3 modes of operation - Easy to use and configure mouse settings - Makes an attractive interface - View battery level and customize all options Hello, I am glad to tell you that my software "Control Center" worked as you've requested. 1) in the "help" window that pops up, read the instructions regarding the installation of your drivers. 2) Double-click on "Control Center" icon. 3) click the "Install" button and wait for it to complete. 4) in case you want to use the "Control Center" in the "control center app" menu, click on the "Start Menu" icon in the top left corner and open "control center app". 5) There you'll see the "Control Center" icon in the "Control Center app". It is recommended to perform the "Control Center" setup twice (first from windows menu "Windows Control Center" and then from the "Control Center app"). I am also running the "Control Center" on a laptop with a Nvidia card. I only use it to control the brightness, screen rotation and so on...
